

MORE THAN COWBOYS & CAMPFIRE

Because we're owned by The Nature Conservancy, we want you to take home more than snapshots. We want you to leave with a greater appreciation of the natural community that shares our backyard.

So along with our top notch wranglers, we have a full-time naturalist on staff to help you explore. And for those who really want to dig into the story, we offer a slate of extended-season Natural History Workshops.

WALKING THE WALK

Our commitment to conservation means making sure that the ranch treads lightly on the land. We have on-site wind and solar power generation – which heats our pool and guest showers. Much of the food you'll enjoy is grown in our own greenhouse or purchased from local producers.

RIDE, HIKE & RELAX

The Pine Butte Guest Ranch is located in one of the most spectacular places in Montana – which is saying a lot since Montana is one of the most spectacular places in the world! And we have plenty of ways for you to enjoy it.

We offer daily guided horseback rides and hikes. Or, set off on your own along miles of hiking trails. Summit nearby Ear Mountain. Watch the wildlife – from grizzlies to songbirds – on neighboring Pine Butte Swamp Preserve. Or if you want a break from hiking boots and saddles, enjoy the sun and a book by our heated pool. End the day around the campfire or snuggled up by the fireplace after a sumptuous gourmet dinner.

LODGING

You'll stay in one of our ten cozy cabins set among the trees along the South Fork of the Teton River. Each cabin is complete with fireplace, full bath and handmade furniture.

COOKOUTS

Every Wednesday evening we have an outdoor steak fry. Guests travel on foot, horseback or by van to a beautiful open air dining spot where we grill local grass-fed beef steaks, sausages and veggie burgers over an open fire.

Friday morning you'll return for a hearty outdoor breakfast accompanied by our special "Cowboy Coffee."
