

⌘NOTES⌘

Chihuahua Woods Preserve is a 243-acre tract of Tamaulipan thorn scrub habitat owned and managed by The Nature Conservancy of Texas. The preserve is open to the public during daylight hours. Please note that collecting of cactus, plants, plant cuttings, seeds, fruit, flowers, or any plant part is strictly prohibited. Please follow the universal rule of nature enjoyment: “Leave nothing but footprints, take nothing but pictures.”

The Nature Conservancy gratefully acknowledges the work of the following, whose observations provided the basis for this checklist:

Joe Ideker

Please help us refine and expand this checklist by reporting observations of any plants not listed here. Please send your observations and comments to: Lisa Williams, South Texas Land Steward, The Nature Conservancy of Texas, Inc., P.O.
