A Historic Opportunity to Address the Climate Crisis

With the Earth experiencing unprecedented levels of climate change, our actions now will determine the future for decades to come. The UN Climate Change Conference is a historic opportunity to make progress towards a cleaner, more equitable future for all. The time to act is now.

The Global Phaseout of Fossil Fuels

Transitioning to 100 percent renewable energy is essential to achieving a climate-stable world by 2050. We need to phase out fossil fuels and replace them with clean, sustainable energy. The time to act is now.
