Checklist of Birds

Originally published 1987, Rev. 1989, Rev. 2006-10

The 700-acre Hassayampa River Preserve is owned by The Nature Conservancy (TNC) in Arizona. The mission of TNC is to preserve the plants and animals that represent the diversity of life on earth by protecting the land and waters that they need to survive.

This checklist is based on the American Ornithologists' Union (AOU) 2005 list. It includes 247 species with monthly observations according to the legend at the beginning of the checklist. Rare species in the checklist include banded birds and those expected to be here based on published range maps. The 27 Rare/Accidental species listed at the end of the checklist represent those seen four times or fewer during the last ten years and not banded.

The original checklist was created in 1987 by Jeffrey Cooper, then HRP Naturalist, from many contributions. Over the years, a log was kept of observations including the Christmas Bird Counts, the May Migratory Bird Day counts, our year-round bird-banding program and confirmed sightings by visitors. This newest list is based on the original, modified by these observations over the last ten years and revised bird order per the AOU list.
